Dr. Emil Bardana to Receive Gold Headed Cane Award

The College is proud to honor Emil J. Bardana Jr., MD, FAAAAI, as this year's recipient of the ACAAI Gold Headed Cane Award. The award will be presented during the Convocation scheduled 9:30 am, Saturday, in Hall A of the Convention Center.

The ACAAI Gold Headed Cane Award is presented annually to an allergist who has demonstrated the highest standards of scientific excellence and integrity while serving as a Fellow of the College for at least 20 years. It is designed to serve as an inspiration to younger doctors and encourage them in their family, social, civil, religious and professional lives. Past winners include Harold S. Nelson, MD, FAAAAI; Joseph A. Bellanti, MD, FAAAAI; Edward J. O'Connell, MD, FAAAAI; Elliot F. Ellis, MD, FAAAAI; John C. Selner, MD, FAAAAI; Phillip L. Lieberman, MD, FAAAAI; Betty B. Wray, MD, FAAAAI; and Donald W. Aaronson, MD, FAAAAI.

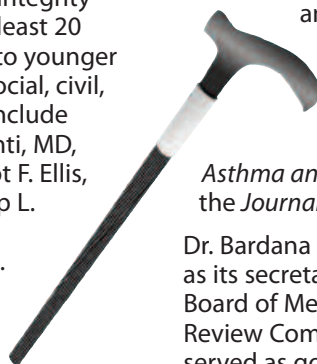

Dr. Bardana is professor of medicine in the Division of Allergy and Clinical Immunology at the Oregon Health and Science University in Portland, Oregon.

He is a past president of ACAAI and also served as president of the Foundation of ACAAI. He was the founding editor of AllergyWatch and launched ImmunologyWatch. He chaired numerous College committees and is currently serving on the Acorn Committee, Past President's Committee and Occupational Health Committee. Dr. Bardana was honored with the 1992 Distinguished Fellow Award and was selected to present the 2002 Jean A. Chapman Living Lecture and the 2009 Jean A. Chapman Memorial Lecture. He also was selected to give the 1996 Stanislaus Jaros Lecture, 1991 Bela Schick Lecture and was awarded a Master in Allergy in 1990.

He is the author or co-author of more than 200 scientific publications in areas of Allergy/Immunology and has served on the editorial boards of the Annals of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology, 1989-93 and 1999-2003, and the Journal of Allergy and Clinical Immunology, 1993-98.

Dr. Bardana was on the ABAI Board of Directors, served as its secretary and its representative on the American Board of Medical Specialties. He chaired the Residency Review Committee (ACGME) for Allergy/Immunology. He served as governor for Oregon of the ACP and ACCP. He served as president of the Western Society of Allergy and Immunology, the Oregon Society of Allergy and Immunology and the Oregon Thoracic Society.
