TEAM

MVP'S

Aimee & Katie

Bojangles had multiple cases for MVP this week. Birthday boy Poche breathed life back into our team by giving us a spark to start our comeback against Mayhem's initial 6-0 lead against us with his home run and diving catches.

After Bojangles tied up the game in the last inning, Aimee and Katie came through with their game-winning bunts to finalize the biggest comeback we've seen in a long time!

Lori

Lori had several catches from the infield, made it on base, and even played pitcher. We might as well of sat and drank in the dugout if we knew Lori was going to do it all for us!

Randy

Arriving in altering states of excitement and a chutzpah to lead our team to victory, Randy stood high, all while embracing the challenges facing an 0-1 start to our season. The game outcome was not indicative of his "it" factor however Randy's energy and passion was an inspiration to all team members thus earning him week 2's MVP.

Sticking It Hard

Helping Hands Haley

MVP goes to Helping Hands Haley for her quick hands and quick pass to get the 3rd out in the 3rd inning. Not to mention her fun attitude and awesome drinking skills.

Homerun Hank & No Hair Don't Care

This week Pitch, Please!' dual MVP award goes to Clayton "Homerun Hank" Laughter and Chad "no hair, don't care" Robinson. Clayton and Chad made quite the play when Clayton was making his way to 3rd base as Chad signals for him to hold tight. It seems Clayton was distracted by the glistening lights off of Chad's shiny head as he was just a couple feet away from 3rd base he decided to run all the way back to 2nd when Chad was just telling him to hold tight at 3rd. Play of the day, "Come on, Man!" Chad made some incredible catches to help us win the game and Clayton got around to home plate to help us clinch the win! Both players played incredible this week! Go Pitch, Please! Next week it's time for us to 'Pick our Pitch'!

TEAM

Melissa

Our MVP this week is Drew Kingsbury! I bet in his wildest dreams, Drew had no idea what kind of an impact he would make this week! He singlehandedly made all three outs in one inning and two of his spectacular plays came on diving catches in the outfield! Way to go balls to the wall for us, Drew!

Tyler Streblick

Making his rookie debut, Tyler Streblick won the MVP award this week for his "balls all out" effort. Tyler coming off the disabled list showed no signs of a back injury, by signal handily recording 5 outs in the game. Streb, Strubby, Scooby or what ever you wanna call him also used his size 18 shoes (sorry ladies its prob not that big) to leg out a double in a record setting 6 total steps. His reward for winning MVP - well just take a look.

Jackie "Son" Chan

Our MVP for the week is Jackie Chan...I mean Son Nguyen.

Not only does Son have Fists of Fury, but he also has super speed and quick hands and really knows how to please his pitches. He also seems to be the only one on the team that knows how to score...

Wes "Stache" Ward

Wes "Stache" Ward
Wes was the bright spot on our team Wednesday night! He scored 2 of our 3 runs, made some clutch catches, ran like a panther to the bases, started the intimidation clap and did it all in style while wearing his Homer Simpson Christmas socks. Good job Stache!!
