TEAM AWARDS

Kelly B & Trey

Kat & Sonchai

This week's award goes to the wind. No, seriously. Nothing like a strong wind to keep you on your toes! Also, shout out to Michelle (you know what you did!), Amanda and Shawn for making some sweet outs, and to Shay for scoring the run that caused a tie. Go team!

MVP for game 2 was Kelly B. Not only did she pop out to the infield, but she also took a foul kick right off the face!! But, she kept right on playing and was a trooper through the rest of the game! Way to go Kelly!! Hope your black eye is gone by next week!

Trey was our MVP again! Not only did he have a HOMERUN, but he also was smart enough to let a ball for the other team bounce over the fence for a Ground Rule Double... Unfortunately, our MVP is not exactly an MVP as much as he's the least of our LVP's.

This week SOP is going to give some shout outs to a couple people. First one goes to Kat from the Plano League for subbing for us and saving us from a forfeit. We would also like to thank Sonchai "Sunshine" Lange for buying numerous shots and severely effing us up at Red Rocks on Wed night.

WAKA SHAME

Rob & Bill

WAKA BOJANGLES

Chris & B.J.

Waka shame sure did shine on Wednesday night winning both of their double headers. Between Bard and Bill biting the dust, Casey getting out by getting hit by one of Slade's balls and a mysterious third out, there was no stopping our grace. Despite our obvious awesomeness, two hero's athletic prowess shined above all other. Our man Bill was a hoss on first base shutting down a couple innings single handedly. Our sweet third baseman, Rob man handled those balls like it was his job. Good job fellas! Ya'll are awesome. Obviously.

After a couple weeks off, the Bojangles were finally able to hit the playing fields again. Despite missing some key players and tropical storm like wind conditions, we were able to prevail 8-4. Balls were flying everywhere. Trying to play the balls in the field became an adventure. You couldn't predict what direction they were going or where they would end up, just had to assume you had balls coming to you. Defensive MVP was B.J. who was able to grasp a couple of balls in these windy conditions for key outs. Offensive MVP was Chris, who sent one of his balls over the opposing team's outfield for a three run triple. Great job Bojangles!

This week was one of those weeks, working with a skeleton crew but managed to secure a win. kudos to those team members that made it and for Jana Banana helping out! Golden Boot award goes to Pickle and Scotty for kicking the heck out of the ball in windy conditions and bringing several runs in.

After three weeks of bickering, inebricated planning, and backroom discussions, we were finally able to play KICKBALL again. We choose the entire Team to be this week's MVP's. It took the whole team effort to win both games and we finally looked like the Team of Old that won the pennant last season. In the first game, it was a replay of last year's Championship Game against SOP and we prevailed.....again. We jumped on them quick with 4 runs in the first and held the lead with two additional runs to win 6-1. The left fielder (me), however, didn't show up to the game with his head on straight The more wine I drink while I write this MVP, the longer the talk I am going to have with him later.

I am not so sure it is a good idea to have a game at 7:30, then sit vacant gulping KickBall punch with Everclear (Awesome Choice Sarah and Chris) for an hour while we wait for the 9:30 game to be played. The second game against One Kick Wonders started off much different and came with difficult decisions by the ump's...I think. Our advantage in this game was our defense...I think. We struggled in the first few innings on offense, but we were able to put a few good innings together at the end of the game....I think. I am 100% sure we won, and 100% sure I don't know the final score. Cheers!

Thanks to Justin Regan for the "New and Improved" Trophy! It will be on display for the rest of the season on our bench!
