

Luca Fabris

Luca Maria Francesco Fabris (1966), journalist, architect and PhD, is assistant professor in Architectural Technologies and Environmental Design at the Department BEST of the Politecnico di Milano, Italy (www.polimi.it), where he's teaching since 1997. He's coordinator of the 'Project' area of the monthly review COSTRUIRE (RCS Media Group – www.costruire.it) and technical editor of the 'Environscapes' series published by Maggioli Editore (www.maggioli.it). Visiting professor at European, American and Asian Universities, he focuses on researches about environmental sustainability and compatible technologies related to contemporary built environment and landscape.

lucamariafranceso.fabris@polimi.it

TOWARDS A NEW ARCHITECTURAL IDENTITY

reflections on the architectural fabric in the age of globalization international seminar - 20, 21, 22 May '09