To whom it may concern:

The Rock and Prevention kick-off at Brubaker was a great success. The presenters were on time and provided a great atmosphere. They were very personable and approachable with all staff. I think the younger students especially benefit from learning about drugs and alcohol through the songs because it presents the information in a lighthearted manner while still giving them refusal skills.

The middle school mentors gave the younger students the opportunity to see someone they look up to as positive role models. The music and songs were a great way to get the message across in such a memorable approach and will stick with them much longer than listening to a lecture.

The whole school benefited from being part of the presentation and encouraged all staff and students come together by enjoying the music and singing along. The students saw the Brubaker staff and middle school mentors laughing and dancing along which made the students excited about the activity and the message more powerful!

There was a lot of positive feedback from the teachers at Brubaker Elementary, including that it was the best live program so far. We would love to have the live program return and hope to continue the relationship between Brubaker Elementary and Rock and Prevention for years to come!

Sincerely,
