

The Winsor Gallery
is pleased to have
Charles Young Walls
"Painting the Still-Life" Workshop

Trained in New York City, Charles is an award winning painter who has exhibited in numerous shows in the South, as well as Texas, New England, and New York City. Informative and passionate, he approaches art instruction by addressing visual principles and the material power of technique to equip the student with the skills to fulfill their own artistic vision. "I understand the artistic hunger for good instruction and I don't waste time in my class with unnecessary gimmicks or tricks. I teach the fundamentals that all artists can use regardless of style or subject matter. ...Observation from life, not photos, is how your eyes, your mind, and your hand can develop artistic honesty." www.CharlesYoungWalls.com

June 2nd – 5th, 2011 Cost $350
