FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GUIDED BY KNOWLEDGE, INSPIRED BY LOVE

Science, Art and Religion Present a Unified View of Life's Complexities

Faith, verse, and scientific study join forces in this unique collection of inspirational poetry. Entomologist Henry Disney calls upon his natural inclinations to illustrate the harmonious relationship that exists between science, art, and religion. The author uses creative talent, a lifetime of experience in applied and academic research, and his devout Christian faith to gracefully contribute to the world's current debate on scientific discipline and religious faith. Disney's observations, perceptions, and belief give us an expert's insight into the complex relationships that exist in our universe. As Disney teaches us about the synchronization that exists between all things, he offers us a realistic view of man, nature, and God. According to Disney, scientists who are Christians are the most compelling witnesses to the compatible interactions that exist between science and religion.
