SCOUTING REPORT: NIKE TOC 2008: Young with a lean build but decent size. She has solid ball handling skills which allows her to slash to the rim quite a bit. The left hand is weak and will need to come along to keep defenders on their toes. Her instincts are good and she passes the ball well. Her perimeter shot has a push but it does seem to connect. Watch. NIKE TOC 2009: Kresl has good size at the point spot though she might be better suited to play off the ball at the college level. She is a 5-10 junior guard who good skill and a nice shooting stroke to match. Developing her strength will help add value to her game as a whole but she has the foundation to be productive as a college player.
