The plan also includes several 'EL' labels and a central staircase area. The rooms are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with the central corridor providing access to all rooms.

The floor plan of the 72nd floor of the Empire State Building is a complex layout with a central corridor and four main sections. The central corridor, labeled 'THE STUDIO', contains five elevators and a staircase. The floor is divided into four main sections: 7200s on the left, 7210s in the center, 7220s on the right, and 7230s on the far right. The plan includes room numbers, elevators (EL), and a central staircase. The floor is color-coded by room type: yellow for offices, blue for conference rooms, red for executive offices, and green for other spaces. The plan also shows the building's exterior features, including the roof and the base of the floor.
