

"Study these fascinating Australian Native Animals with me, Mr Googley, while you use your pencils, crayons or paints to add a splash of colour!"

Green Tree Frog. Australia's frogs are many and varied, as are their habitats. They are found in burrows in the ground, and high in the trees. One of the most popular is the beautiful Green Tree Frog, found throughout most of the temperate and tropical areas of Australia.

Kangaroo.

Probably Australia's most famous marsupial, the Kangaroo is a powerful animal, who survives danger by hopping away swiftly on muscular hind legs. The male is red in colour and the female is grey. The young when born are underdeveloped and spend a long time in the protection of their mother's pouch.

Platypus. The Platypus is an Australian mammal, which has the a body and tail similar to that of a beaver, though smaller. It has a flat soft rubbery bill and webbed feet. The Platypus lays two eggs in a burrow, which it digs in a river bank.