

MAKE

Eight Entrepreneurs at the Top of Their Game; Marijuana for the 1 Percent; The Boom in Space Mining

GROW

Three Crucial Trends in Finance; Lessons in Philanthropy 2015; Upstarts and Icons in Investing

LIVE

The Best of 2015 in Cars, Watches, Travel and More; New Hope for Rare Diseases; Seven Masters of Luxury

Worth[®]

THE EVOLUTION OF FINANCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THE EXCELLENCE ISSUE

EX:15

WORTH.COM

39

VOLUME 24 | EDITION 06

LLBH Private Wealth Management LLC

Kevin Burns, Founding Partner; Bill Loftus, Founding Partner;
Jim Pratt-Heaney, CIMA®, Founding Partner

“ETFs: Are they too big to fail?”

By Jim Pratt-Heaney

Our experience on Wall Street has taught us to be wary of new financial vehicles hailed as the answer to modern investing. In the last 20 years, no investment product has grown in assets more than the exchange traded fund (ETF). This impressive growth might suggest that ETFs add tremendous value for investors, but we'd suggest taking a closer look.

In 1993, when State Street Global Advisors introduced the SPDR ETF to track the S&P 500 index, the issue size was $6.5 million. Today, the ETF market has over 1,600 ETFs, representing over $2.7 trillion. This sort of growth is not without market consequences. Consider:

- $18.2 trillion worth of ETF shares were traded over a 12-month period from July 2014 to July 2015.¹
- Over the same 12 months, ETF annual turnover was 870 percent, versus 200 percent for the average stock, and 35 percent for mutual funds.¹
- 75 percent of ETFs are held by institutions for hedge or portfolio construction purposes, not long-term investment.²

Most investors know an ETF is a “basket” of stocks, bonds, commodities or other asset classes. In fact, this range has ballooned to include leveraged and synthetic varieties.

Among other reasons, ETFs vary from their mutual fund cousins due to their ability to be traded throughout the day. While this provides theoretical liquidity, it also introduces risk in attempting to price an aggregation of securities on a real-time basis based upon buy-sell order flow.

So, what can go wrong? An analogy is a movie theater with clearly marked exits. Yet, in stressful situations, those same exits cannot handle the flow of traffic in an efficient, safe manner.

Looking back at the market volatility of August 2015, we saw ETFs trading as much as 30 percent lower than the true value of their holdings; there were even temporary trading stoppages because market makers could not follow the rules to maintain an acceptable price. As part of LLBH's financial review, we evaluate prospective clients' investments to discover potential portfolio concerns. We often find portfolios loaded with ETFs and have identified important questions to consider:

- Diversification: We advise a diversified portfolio, not a basket within a certain asset class.

- Position overlap: Oftentimes, different ETFs hold the same underlying securities, exposing investors to potential company or sector risk.

- Fees: While popular due to their discounted pricing, many ETFs' fees have risen.

- Performance relative to benchmarks: Difficulty with replication has resulted in fixed income ETF underperformance versus benchmarks, some by more than 5 percent.³

- Are benchmarks appropriate? Some actively managed ETFs don't have a real index or benchmark to follow, making them difficult to evaluate.⁴

- Is there potential for trading issues? The bond market sell-off of 2013 highlighted the impact of rapid movement of money in and out of fixed income ETFs.⁵

Our aim is not to deride ETFs as a poor investment vehicle; ETFs can play a role in a well-formed portfolio. But, as an investor, you should be aware of their underlying issues and recognize that while there may be a lot of assets committed to the category, ETFs are not too big to fail. ☛ ¹Eric Balchunas. Bloomberg.com, <http://www.bloomberg.com/news/articles/2015-07-30/the-amount-of-etf-shares-being-traded-has-eclipsed-u-s-gdp>; paragraph 3, July 30, 2015; ²Jane Wollman Rusoff. Research magazine: “How John Bogle Really Sees ETFs,” October 2012; ³Bloomberg Data, cumulative performance versus benchmark, January 1, 2009, to June 1, 2015; ⁴Investor.gov, Investor Bulletin: SEC Exchange Traded Funds, August 2012; ⁵Massoudi, Arash, Braithwaite, Tom and Foley, Stephen. Financial Times, “Bond market sell-off caused stress in $2tn ETF industry,” June 21, 2013.

This article is provided by and has been paid for inclusion in Worth magazine by LLBH Private Wealth Management (“LLBH”), an SEC registered investment adviser with its principal place of business in the State of Connecticut. Any reference to or use of the terms “registered investment adviser” or “registered,” does not imply that LLBH or any person associated with LLBH has achieved a certain level of skill or training. This article contains general information that is not suitable for everyone. The information contained herein should not be construed as personalized investment advice. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Certain information in this article has been derived from third-party sources. While we believe these third-party sources to be reliable, we cannot guarantee the accuracy of any such information. Additionally, this article contains certain forward-looking statements that point to future possibilities. Due to known and unknown risks, other uncertainties and factors, actual results may differ materially from the results portrayed in such forward-looking statements. As such, there is no guarantee that the views and opinions expressed in this article will come to pass. Investing in the stock market involves gains and losses and may not be suitable for all investors. Information presented herein is subject to change without notice and should not be considered as a solicitation to buy or sell any security. For additional information about LLBH, including fees and services, send for our disclosure statement as set forth on Form ADV from LLBH using the contact information herein or visit www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. Please read the disclosure statement carefully before you invest or send money.

“Their impressive growth might suggest ETFs add tremendous value for investors, but we’d suggest taking a closer look.”

—Jim Pratt-Heaney

How to reach Jim Pratt-Heaney

I look forward to discussing how LLBH can help you reach your financial goals and can be reached at 800.700.5524.

Left to right:
Jim Pratt-Heaney,
Kevin Burns,
Bill Loftus

About LLBH Private Wealth Management LLC

LLBH Private Wealth Management is an independent registered investment advisor offering a full range of wealth-management services. Often referred to as a “virtual family office,” LLBH strives to bring clarity and control to the financial lives of its clientele by delivering customized personal and business solutions. From its offices in Westport, Conn., and Los Angeles, Calif., LLBH services high net worth individuals, families and foundations on both coasts and nationwide.

Assets Under Care $1.7 billion
(approximately, as of 10/31/2015)

Minimum Fee for Initial Meeting
None required

Minimum Net Worth Requirement
$10 million (investment services)

Financial Services Experience
200 years (combined)

Compensation Method Asset-based

Primary Custodian for Investor Assets
Pershing, A BNY Mellon Company

Professional Services Provided Financial planning, asset management, concentrated stock hedging, lending, cash management, alternative investment due diligence and family office services

Association Memberships Financial Planning Association, Investment Management Consultants Association

Email jpratt-heaney@llbhpwm.com

Website www.llbhprivatewealthmanagement.com

Kevin Burns
Founding Partner

Bill Loftus
Founding Partner

Jim Pratt-Heaney, CIMA®
Founding Partner

LLBH Private Wealth Management LLC

33 Riverside Avenue, 5th Floor
Westport, CT 06880

2121 Avenue of the Stars
Los Angeles, CA 90067

Tel. 800.700.5524

kburns@llbhpwm.com

bloftus@llbhpwm.com

jpratt-heaney@llbhpwm.com

www.llbhprivatewealthmanagement.com

PRIVATE WEALTH
MANAGEMENT

Where Wall Street Experience Meets Hometown Care

REPRINTED FROM

Worth

THE EVOLUTION OF FINANCIAL INTELLIGENCE

LLBH Private Wealth Management LLC is featured in Worth® 2016 Leading Wealth Advisors™, a special section in every edition of Worth® magazine. All persons and firms appearing in this section have completed questionnaires, have been vetted by an advisory group following submission by Worth®, and thereafter paid the standard fees to Worth® to be featured in this section. The information contained herein is for informational purposes, and although the list of advisors presented in this section is drawn from sources believed to be reliable and independently reviewed, the accuracy or completeness of this information is not guaranteed. No person or firm listed in this section should be construed as an endorsement by Worth®, and Worth® will not be responsible for the performance, acts or omissions of any such advisor. It should not be assumed that the past performance of any advisors featured in this special section will equal or be an indicator of future performance. Worth®, a publication of the Worth Group LLC, is a financial publisher and does not recommend or endorse investment, legal or tax advisors, investment strategies or particular investments. Those seeking specific investment advice should consider a qualified and licensed investment professional. Worth® is a registered trademark of the Worth Group LLC.