Baby Monkey

Baby Monkey is a brand of organic cotton onesies and toddler tees printed with designs that bridge fashion and humor with the principles of Feng Shui and an organic lifestyle. Each design promotes health, happiness, and prosperity. Baby Monkey also introduces Asian culture and Feng Shui to babies and children early in life so that beneficial chi (energy) can be cultivated from the very beginning.

Belmama & Cherub

Showers are a welcome retreat. But pregnancy and breastfeeding can change that as water can sting sensitive breasts and nipples. The Shower Hug is made of the softest, most luxurious knit terry velour to provide expectant and new moms with gentle bust line support, and to soothe sensitive nipples and breasts associated with pregnancy and breastfeeding. Consider it a hug from this mom to you!

Paci Plushies

Pacifiers can disappear in the depths of a diaper bag as often as socks do in the dryer, but you'd have to try hard to lose a Paci-Plushie. Just snap one of these cute characters- Monkey, Panda, Puppy, Lamb, Cat or Bear-onto your baby's pacifier (comes with one but fits most brands). For ages two months and up.

Zeebabee

All parents know that young babies relate better to objects with sharp contrasts. There's something in the high defined edges that really get their attention. Zeebabee has found a way to encourage this cognitive development by producing burp cloths and Mommy tees with beautiful abstract designs. After all, attached to Mommy is where babies spend the most time, right? Check out our Burp Sees™ and Baby See™ T-shirts and see for yourself!!

Babies Go

Parents looking for hip alternatives to traditional mind-numbing children's music can enjoy Babies Go, a collection of 20 CDs designed by parents for families. Available in editions from artists such as Madonna, the Rolling Stones, U2, and Guns N Roses, familiar classics are set to soothing instrumental sounds. These melodic interpretations are a nice break from some of the other more saccharin children's tunes on the market.
