Africa Power Point Project 2012: 50 points

Working in groups, you will design and deliver a power point presentation on one African country. The countries will be randomly assigned.

You will have approximately three class days to work on the project. You will have the use of the computer labs for two days. To speed the project along, you should plan on bringing in your research so that class time is devoted to building the power point. You need to set up a system to communicate and share with your group.

All power points MUST BE SENT via MHS email to asullivan@mpsri.net.

Your power point presentation will focus on three questions: What are the challenges facing your country; what opportunities are available to your country, and what successes has your country experienced.

Your presentation should have a title slide with the name of the country and members of the group. You need to have a map of the country that shows its location within the continent. You must have a slide with basic information (form of government, type of economy, population, ethnic/religious groups, per capita income, literacy rate, life expectancy, etc). You must have a slide for each of the three questions. Power point was selected so you could emphasize visual representation of the information. You need note cards so you can speak on each of the topics.

This is a fun and exciting project! Enjoy!
