

Express yourself.

An Evening of Community Engagement & Civil Dialogue

In this election season, is there such a thing as a CIVIL dialogue?
We hear from the Obama and Romney campaigns, but what's your position?
Still deciding?

Join us October 9 to express yourself and participate in a dialogue for discovery.
Join us for a creative and productive exploration of the hot topics of our times.
All points of view are welcome and honored. Including yours.

Tuesday, October 9

6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

ASU Art Museum

10th Street and Mill Avenue

Tempe, AZ 85287-2911 | Campus map

Free admission, no reservations required

Presented by ASU's Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts Socially Engaged Practice Initiative and the ASU Art Museum, co-sponsored by the School of Theatre and Film, the Participatory Governance Initiative and the Hugh Downs School of Human Communication, in conjunction with Sojourn Theatre's Town Hall Nation project.

For more information contact Elizabeth Johnson, Coordinator of Socially Engaged Practice, ejohns17@asu.edu, 480-727-6332