Welcome 2013! We've concluded another successful year and now it's time to turn our attention to the new year. We have a lot of activities during the first half of the year. As you know, now is the time to be selling quartet ads. May 11, 2013 is the date for the Quartet's on Parade show.

The February 13, 2013 meeting is going to be a special evening. We will have our District Governor, Zone Chairman and other invited guests to share the evening with our Youth Exchange Student, Meylin Tan. She will be making a presentation about life in Lima, Peru as well as her experience during her stay in WV. All of this will take place in a Valentine's Day atmosphere.

The annual Easter Egg Hunt will take place on March 30, 2013. This is always a fun activity and requires a lot of help by everyone.

Adopt-A-Highway will likely be held in April.

This year the Lions State Convention will be held at Pipestem State Park May 31, 2013 through June 2, 2013. It is not too early to reserve your room or cabin. If you have never been to a State Convention or it has been a long time since you attended, consider coming to this convention.

As you can see, there are many activities during the first part of the year and we will need everyone's help.

On February 11 & 25, 2013 Multiple District 29 Deaf & Blind Recreation Program will be sponsoring a ski trip for the students at the Romney School for the Deaf & Blind. The blind students will ski on February 11th and the deaf students will ski on February 25th. Both trips will go to Timberline Resort in Canaan Valley. This is one of the programs that we support through the Parade of Checks.

Peace Poster Contest

On January 9, 2013, the Peace Poster winners joined us for the evening. After dinner, Lions Patty Austin and Lorrie Krautwurst presented each winner with a framed copy of their Peace Poster along with a gift certificate to Hobby Lobby arts & crafts store. There was one caveat; the girls had to leave their posters behind to be displayed at the Wardensville Community Center. Art teacher Eva Since received a check from the Wardensville Lions Club, which she indicated, will help buy art supplies.

Pictured (L-R) are Art teacher, Eva Sine, 3rd place winner – Brooke Miller, 2nd place winner – Kayla Hill and 1st place winner – Julia Hahn. We would like to thank Ms. Sine and all of the students for their participation in this year's Peace Poster Contest – Imagine Peace. We look forward to your entries next year.

We're Looking for New Members!

Membership is always an important topic with any organization. As our membership grows so does the strength of our club. Membership numbers shrink over time for a variety of reasons. In the near future we will be holding a membership evening. Therefore, over the next several weeks please think of neighbors, family members, people with whom you do business or go to church with that you believe may be interested in joining our Club. Jot down their names and give that information to Les Barr who is our Membership Chairman. These names will provide a pool of people that we can invite to a special membership evening

Congratulations and thank you for your service to our community.

On December 12, 2012 President Steve Rhoades inducts and welcomes new member, Birgit Furlong. Birgit was sponsored by Rollin Garrett. We all welcome you to the greatest service organization in the world and one of the best Lions Clubs in West Virginia. Come join in as there is a lot to do and we need your help!

IN A WORLD OF SERVICE

By International Director Steve Glass

In a World of Service that President Madden envisions we Lions need to also focus on service to our fellow Lions as well as to the communities that we serve. We need to always be mindful that we also need to look inward within our clubs and districts as well as outward to the communities that we serve. What does this all mean for us as individual Lions and leaders?

1. You must be willing to invite prospective members into your family of Lions. Just ask!
2. You must be willing to learn all that you can about what activities and service projects your club, district, and Lions Clubs International offers.
3. You must be willing to accept new assignments and leadership opportunities when they arise.
4. You must be willing to share your friendship, fellowship, and knowledge with newer members of your club to make them feel welcome and a part of your family.
5. You should always be vigilant for new service projects and ideas that will inspire your members and fulfill their need to serve with passion and enthusiasm.

As we step into a New Year, I ask you to consider the following challenges (Resolutions, if you will):

1. Will you invite someone/s into membership during January of 2013?
2. Will you set a personal and club goal for membership growth during January of 2013 and throughout the next six months?
3. Will you make your personal mission to find out if your club members are realizing their full potential, and if not, why not?
- 4- Will you help your zone chairperson and district leadership team identify new areas of the district that can benefit from a new Lions club?
5. Will you resolve to accept greater leadership responsibilities in the New Year and help others to fully develop their full leadership skills?

Yes, In a World of Service, we also serve our fellow Lions, our club leaders, and prospective Lions. Without new hands, hearts, and minds, as well as newly-developing leaders, the service to community may be threatened or at least substantially diminished.

May each of you enjoy a blessed and fulfilling New Year!

Protecting yourself from identity theft requires continuous effort and awareness on your part. Here are 20 tips to help you keep your information from getting in the hands of the wrong people.

01. Remove your mail as soon as possible after it's been delivered.
02. Only shop on websites that you know and trust and use secure encryption technology.
03. Shred all pre-approved offers of credit you receive in the mail.
04. Be extremely diligent about giving anyone your social security number
05. Review your credit reports each year for accuracy and signs of abuse.
06. Don't carry anymore cards or information in your wallet than you need for any particular occasion.
07. Remove and destroy all receipts from ATMs or while out shopping.
08. Make sure you have the most current anti-virus software on your computer.
09. Always log out of a website that you have accessed with a username and password.
10. Include symbols, upper and lower case letters and numbers whenever possible in passwords.
11. Don't ever use a family name or date in a password.
12. Contact the major players as soon as you realize your wallet/information has been lost or stolen: your financial institution, your creditors, your local authorities.
13. Shield the keypad whenever you are entering your PIN.
14. Examine the ATM you are using for unusual looking swipe equipment or unfamiliar settings.
15. Don't ever give personal or financial information to someone who contacted you over the telephone.
16. Don't respond to text messages or emails asking for account information or passwords.
17. Ask why someone or a company needs the information they are requesting before you freely give it.
18. Do not post personal data like birthdates or vacation schedules on social networking sites.
19. Deposit outgoing mail in a mail receptacle or at a post office—not your mailbox.
20. Do not write your driver's license or social security number on a check.
