Welcome!

Is your man meeting all your needs? Can't figure out what keeps going wrong in your relationships? I'm here to help. I'm Mara Tyler, professional astrologer and writer. One of the many reasons I love astrology is that it's such an amazing tool for helping us understand our relationships. That's why I've put together this free report to help you get started.

Men—let's face it—are a different species. We may never be able to understand them fully, but the best approach I've found is to start with yourself. Know who you are, how you communicate, what you need, and how to ask for it. The rest is simple.

In this report, I'll give you an overview of your sun sign, how you interact in love, what signs are best matches for you, and who to avoid! In addition, I'll give you some important questions to ask yourself about what you want and need in love.

A Final Note...

Ever wonder why the things written about your sun sign don't seem anything like you? That's because our rising signs and Venus signs often play a big role in shaping our personalities, especially when it comes to love. If you know your rising and Venus signs, it helps to take into account the information for those signs as well. If not, an easy Google search for "free birth chart" will help you find them. Since these signs will depend on your unique birth date and time, they will be different for everyone.

It's actually not rocket science. Once you start getting to know astrology better, you'll be able to navigate your relationships with understanding and ease.

Happy reading!

Love,

Sassy Astro

Capricorn

Overview:

Ah, lady goat. To you, love might be more of concept that lives in your head than in your heart – at least until you can fully open up and trust someone. What you're probably looking for, deep down, is a solid and stable life partner who can provide for you both materially and emotionally. You tend to be cautious in love since you give everything you have to a man – you know he has to be worth it. You'll benefit from someone who helps you lighten up a bit but who still shares your motivated, classy style.

Basic Needs:

Security, protection, authority, respect, position, tradition

Romance and Sex Style

You don't beat around the bush. Who has time for long-lasting embraces or lazy days of lovemaking? You probably just want a man who will pick you up on time, make romantic gestures here and there, and be a solid source of emotional fortitude. Amen, sister. While you're probably not into over-the-top romance, you do appreciate tradition and chivalry more than most.

Compatibility Questions to Ask

Does he respect my need for order and stability?

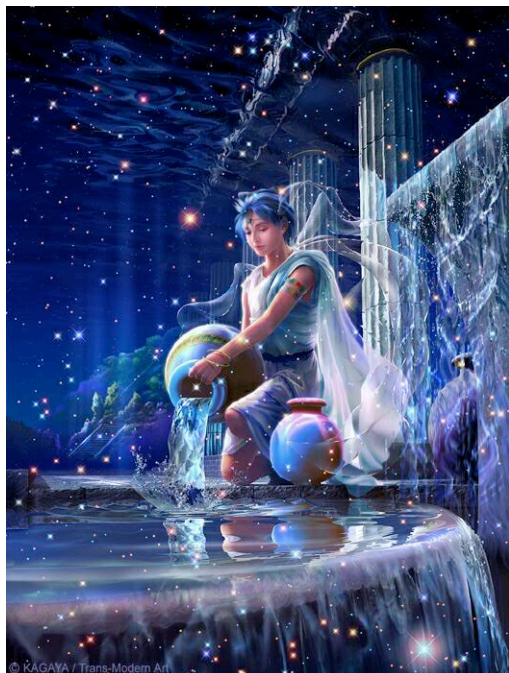

Can I rely on him to take care of me?

Do I see a long-term future with him?

Will he support my personal and professional goals?

Famous Capricorn Women

Aquarius

Overview

Miss Aquarius, you might be the most confused about love. It's not because you're missing the mark or you aren't capable of a good relationship—it's just that you probably value your independence and freedom more than any other sign. How do you reconcile your need for autonomy with things like co-habitation or marriage? What you probably need is a man who shares your free-spirited style. Suffocating, needy types won't do. You probably crave plenty of intellectual stimulation, adventure, and someone who makes you laugh. If you haven't found him yet, don't give up. He's out there.

Basic Needs

Freedom, autonomy, respect, intellectual stimulation, creativity

Romance and Sex Style

An Aquarius woman needs a creative man who keeps her on her toes. You probably appreciate dates that aren't just dinner and a movie. You want to run, play, explore, think, and create with a man who's not only your lover but your best friend. If you're a typical Aquarius, you probably see sex as a spiritual portal to higher consciousness and may even be a bit freaky in the sack.

Pisces

Overview

Fish lady is often accused of being a dreamer, but deep down, you know exactly who you are. In love, you probably fall deep, hard, and eternally. In fact, you typically hold a special place in your heart for your exes, knowing that they have each taught you important lessons. A typical Pisces is somewhat of a double-sided coin. On one hand, you want to belong to someone more than anything else, but you also have an inherent need for solitude and self-reflection. You probably need a man who is emotionally strong, sensitive, and endlessly supportive of all your creative endeavors.

Basic Needs

Harmony, connection, fulfillment, spiritual enlightenment, security

Romance and Sex Style

Pisces girl is usually offbeat and unique while traditional and feminine at the same time. Men are drawn to your innocent act and the way you make them feel entirely at ease with your warm spirit and down-to-earth friendliness. In bed, you probably need a man who can rock your body and capture your heart at the same time. To you, sex is probably more fulfilling when you're deeply in love. If you're hurt, you can lash out with incomparable venom. However, as long as your needs are being met and you feel loved and cared for, you're sweeter than pie.

Aries

Overview

Men? Who needs them! As an Aries, you're one of the most independent, strong-willed, and self-sufficient signs in the zodiac. You know what you want and you never hesitate to go after it. In love, you might usually be the aggressor instead of the pursued, but the right man loves your no-nonsense style. Underneath that tough exterior, however, you probably want a man who will rub your feet at the end of a long day. Some men can't handle your up front style, which is why you probably need someone who's more passive and easy-going. If you pair up with another go-getter, things could be fun, but competition might destroy your relationship.

Basic Needs

Achievement, status, adoration, adventure

Romance and Sex Style

You don't beat around the bush in life, and love is no different! Is your romantic life characterized by passionate affairs, impulsive relationships, and all-consuming love? I thought so. Since you probably don't hold back emotionally, you have an innocent, hopeful approach to every relationship, but it also could land you in hot water. You need to know you're appreciated and loved—and will probably stray if your needs aren't met. The best guy for you is someone who's up for adventure, likes to be on the go, and can make you feel like a queen. Another thing? He better be energetic in bed. You've been known to get wild and crazy.

Taurus

Overview

Lady Bull is one of the most committed and dedicated creatures in the Zodiac—no wonder men love you! Since Venus rules your sun sign, you're probably more romantic than you let on. When it comes down to it, you probably just want a good, dependable man who shares her values and morals. Once you fall in love, it's usually for life—even if you break up or get divorced. That stubborn, stick-to-it nature just won't allow you to give up. A good partner can help ground and stabilize you, which is just what you probably want.

Basic Needs

Sensuality, stability, material security, physical movement

Romance and Sex Style

There's probably a lot that lies beneath when it comes to the complicated world of your emotions. You may not let on how you really feel until you're sure it's entirely safe. If a guy wants to sweep you off your feet, he'll probably have to be a little bit rugged and outdoorsy, or at least not be the prissy, high-maintenance type that's too into his appearance. While you may not give in to your longings right away, eventually the right person will tap into that well of passion and let you unleash who you truly are.

Cher, Uma Therman, Naomi Campbell

Gemini

Overview

Being a twin isn't easy, is it? With your changeable nature, you may be more prone than other signs to be a tad wishy-washy in love. Some might even go so far as to call you promiscuous. But that's only because they're judging your surface character. Deep down, you are probably looking for an earth-shattering, spiritual connection via a love union. Since you're often seduced by the mind, a guy can only get close to you if he can navigate and know the terrain of your brain. Since you probably need to develop a strong friendship before you'll give your heart, look beyond appearances and physical lust when you're ready to settle down.

Basic Needs

Mental stimulation, challenge, diversity, spirituality, exploration

Romance and Sex Style

Just when a guy thinks he's got her, a Gemini girl will flip the switch and show him her alter ego. Am I right? You literally do have two sides to your personality—or maybe even 10. You'll need someone who's inspired by the challenge of knowing the true you. Emotionally needy or clingy types need not apply. When it comes to bedroom behavior, you'll probably get turned on by the quick-witted, smart, even nerdy types over muscles and machismo.

Famous Gemini Women

Marilyn Monroe, Nicole Kidman, Brooke Shields

Cancer

Overview

A Cancer woman knows more than she's telling. While you may appear cool as a cucumber on the outside, there's a whole lot going on inside that crab shell. Since you're probably changeable in your moods and feelings, a guy may never know where he stands with you—but you tend to like it that way. Until you're sure a man is worthy of your total love and devotion, you typically will keep him guessing. Once you're won over, however, the man you pick will be the luckiest guy alive. Your nurturing, giving, and dreamy nature will seduce the pants off him—forever.

Basic Needs

Comfort, indulgence, appreciation, imagination, healing

Romance and Sex Style

While it may take you a while to full commit, it's only because you're trying to figure out whether or not you could marry this guy, or at least settle down for a while. The intensity of your emotions may overwhelm you in love, so it's typical for Cancer girls to withdraw, then reappear, withdraw again, and repeat the cycle until they're ready to dive in headfirst. To you, sex and love go hand in hand, and you probably can't separate the two easily. Find a guy who's ready to commit to you fully—otherwise you could fool yourself with a lifetime of imposters.

Leo

Overview

Lady lion needs no introduction. You already know her. She's the most popular girl in the office, the object of every male's affection, and probably the most beautiful woman in the room. Even if you're not the flashy, showy-type lion, you probably get noticed wherever you go. A lioness usually wants nothing more than unyielding love, devotion, and admiration. As soon as she feels like she's not the star of the show, she'll probably become insecure and question her worth. You, my girl, probably need someone who is just as bold and passionate as you. If you can find the male version of yourself, you might just achieve romantic bliss.

Basic Needs

Attention, worship, validation, laughter, passion

Romance and Sex Style

When you love, you love fully and unapologetically. However, it probably takes a talented man to finally pin you down, what with your busy social life and successful career. You probably need a guy who can keep you on your toes, offer travel and adventure, and worships the ground you walk on. In return, you provide all the warmth and love any man could ask for. Your sexual style is the same approach you probably use in all areas of your life: you get down to business and you never do anything half-heartedly.

Virgo

Overview

The careful, discerning Virgo lady gives men something to work for—and we all know they need the challenge. Otherwise, how will we know they are worthy? You're another misunderstood sign in the Zodiac, as you're not the nit-picky, control freak most astrologers accuse you of being. You just know exactly what you want and won't settle for less. You probably see love for precisely what it is and have no romantic illusions clouding your senses. The challenge, then, is to find a man who's both your practical partner and passionate lover. Yes, lady Virgo, you can have both.

Basic Needs

Perfection, mental compatibility, compassion, emotional release

Love and Romance Style

You're probably a bit of a contradiction in love. One minute you're emotionally available, the next you're cold and aloof. In your mind, there's always something that can be improved upon, and your relationships are no different. You see through the flashy and showy, preferring someone who can be your friend first before getting romantic. The guy who will win your heart will have to prove he's perfect—even where he's flawed, and you'll have to lower your standards once he comes along.

Compatibility Questions to Ask

Is he (mostly) everything I could ask for?

Will he provide the emotional safe harbor I need?

Can he keep up with me mentally?

Can he stomach my sarcastic and sometimes critical nature?

Famous Virgo Women

Cameron Diaz, Sophia Loren, Fiona Apple

Libra

Overview

When it comes to love, there's probably no one more fickle than a Libra lady. The real kicker, however, is that despite your inability to make up your mind, you typically tend to thrive better with a partner than alone. What's a girl to do? Miss Libra needs a man who will help her create a peaceful, harmonious existence – even when she's fretting herself into a frenzy about their future. Make sure you aren't staying with someone just because you're afraid to upset him by leaving. The beauty and balance you crave will be nearly effortless with the right man.

Basic Needs

Harmony, peace, connection, socialization, balance

Love and Romance Style

You may be the type of girl who's always in a relationship. For Libras, that's just their style. You probably know yourself better through another, but as you grow older, you may realize the need to be alone for self-reflection. The man who can win your heart will be charming, refined, intelligent, and an excellent communicator. Avoid loud, macho, aggressive types, as they'll never understand how much brash behavior rattles you. In bed, you might be a bit detached, seeing sex as more of an aesthetic experience than an emotional one.

Best Matches

Leo, Pisces, Aries

Challenging Matches

Libra, Aquarius, Sagittarius

Compatibility Question to Ask

Does he help me foster peace and clarity in my life?

Is he a reliable partner, both as a friend and lover?

Gwen Stefani, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Susan Sarandon

Scorpio

Overview

Could I sum up your love life in one word? Intense. A Scorpio woman is a force to be reckoned with, and her sting can last a lifetime. However, the lucky guy who manages to win your affections will be generously rewarded with passion and devotion unmatched by any other sign. Your innate curiosity probably has afforded you plenty of interesting relationships, but have you found one that will last? The challenge for you is probably to find a man who can handle the depth of your personality. Once you get him, be sure to treat him with special care. He's a rare breed.

Basic Needs

Satisfaction, honesty, commitment, passion, privacy

Love and Romance Style

Smoldering with sexuality, you probably have no problem attracting men everywhere you go. There's something about you—an aura, if you will—that renders men completely mesmerized. Once you've caught someone, you're probably passionate and open, if not a bit jealous or territorial. Since sex is your strong suit, you'll probably often find men falling in love with you after one casual tryst. Choose your rendezvous carefully and make sure when you settle down it's with someone who's just as much your friend as lover.

Sagittarius

Overview

Oh, lady Sag. Don't all women wish they were as independent and free-spirited as you? Deep down, we probably all yearn for the kind of genuine detachment you have from love. While you may be the happiest married woman on the block, you're still able to maintain autonomy of self and spirit—and you'll never give it up. The challenge for most Sag women is finding a man who will give them the freedom they crave while still being their one and only. Your best bet, then, is to find someone who is just as self-reliant and independent as you.

Basic Needs

Freedom, space, appreciation, creativity, autonomy

Love and Romance Style

A lot of men are drawn to you because you simply don't give them the time of day. Or, at least in theory you don't. Since you're usually absorbed in your own world, ambitions, and ideas, it takes a special guy to catch your attention, and he's probably of the pioneering, powerful variety. Your thirst for adventure keeps you on the go, so look for a guy who can keep up. When it comes to sex, you can be passionate and a bit kinky. But he'll only get you into bed by proving his intelligence, wit, and innate compassion for mankind.
