

Semaphore

Semaphore is a signalling code to send messages to another person that you can see in the distance.

You use 2 flags to signal. When you practice Semaphore on your own it helps to look in a mirror so that you see the signal shape as the person you are sending to would see it. Return to the 'ready' position at the end of a word or if you repeat a letter. Send signals VERY SLOWLY as semaphore is tricky to read!!

When you are receiving a message you could write it down like this and then work out the meaning by looking at the pictures.....

There are plenty of good books available to help you learn and use semaphore. Old Scout / Guide books are best.
